ALL-HAWAIIANS WALK ALL OVER SEA-SOLDIERS

"Squeeze Play" Is Worked With Marked Success Against the Marines---Score, 15 to 3.

"Just a little squeeze-play turned the trick," says the exultant fan at the end of a close and exciting game, and he leaves the grounds with the firm conviction that his team and no other in the world could have pulled off the delicate little play with as great cleverness as did "his" boys.

And certain it is that every fan has reason to feel proud of the aggregation that can handle a genuine "squeeze" play with the finesse that it requires. It is one of the hardest, easiest, best, worst plays in a baseball game. If the players work together absolutely, if each man minds his signal, it is one of the most successful and best-paying tricks that can be played. One mishap, and all is lost.

The All-Hawaiians demonstrated that they have considerable inside knowledge of the game yesterday when they worked "squeeze" play after "squeeze" play with success against the United States Marine Corps team. A nicely-placed bunt, a ball hard to get and still harder to handle after it is picked up, a dash of speed from the man leading off third—and there is a clatter as the baseball spikes cross the plate, miles before the ball. In the meantime the batter is beating it for all he is worth towards first, the pitcher is probably up in the air, the crowd is yelling like mad, and a chalk mark on the black-board back of center pushes the score one notch forward.

That's a "squeeze" play, properly

FIGHTERS ON THE WAY HERE

Joe Cohen Is Bringing Reilly, Smith, and George Peterson.

"San Francisco, January 10. "Bringing George Peterson, middleweight, Smith and Charley Reilly. "COHEN."

Will Prestidge received the above cablegram from Joel Cohen, fight-promoter, yesterday morning. This means that a new era of boxing contests will soon dawn in Honolulu.

George Peterson is the man who will walk into the punches of Dick Sullivan, who is here at present, and who has made quite a record for himself as a clean, clever fighter and an all-round sportsman. Peterson is exactly in Sullivan's class, and it will be a great event when these two meet in the square ring.

Peterson walloped Kyle Whitney, who, in turn, once did Sullivan up. In the meantime, Dick has picked up a great deal of fighting experience, and he may be termed as a very "classy" mit-arist.

Every fighting fan in Honolulu knows Charlie Reilly, and few have forgotten Smith. Lightweights they both are, and good ones. Their contest in the Orpheum some time ago was one of the best that has ever been seen here.

Joe Cohen has kept his word, and is bringing back a trio of fighters who will make things hum in this old burg. With Dick Sullivan and George Peterson in the main event of an evening, and Charlie Reilly and Smith hooked up in the preliminary, what more could a man who enjoys a pugilistic contest want?

worked! The All-Hawaii team worked it to the tune of 15 to 3 at the league grounds yesterday afternoon.

And that's the game that will do business with the professionals. They are not expecting to meet a bunch of well-trained ball-players. Let a speedy player work his way around to third, and then do the trick, a la yesterday's performance, and those big leaguers will pinch themselves to find out if they are awake.

There isn't much to tell about that game at the grounds yesterday afternoon. It was a lop-sided affair, with the lop on the side of the All-Hawaiians. But it certainly was cracking good practice, and the boys made an excellent showing for the time that they have been in uniforms.

If Dick Reuter can do the flinging stunt as he did yesterday, he'll have the champions swinging their heads off. The ball he threw yesterday was a marvel. The Marine Corps team could no more touch him than a pig can run a flying machine. It was simply great the way Dick showed perfect control, zipping speed, and that famous old underhand ball that looks like it is going to paste you in the head and then shoots over the plate, to be called "str-rike tu-uh" by the umpire. Reuter has everything, and appears to be improved wonderfully in his playing over last year. For the first game, his pitching yesterday was nothing short of marvelous.

Johnnie Williams also officiated in the center of the diamond for the first four innings, and he demonstrated that he is the same, steady pitcher as of old.

By the way, Mr. Fan, let us inform you that Soares is a good little back-stop. Although afraid that he might injure his throwing hand, he pulled in some bad ones yesterday and winged down to second like a streak of lightning. His hands are tender as yet, and he is very properly taking the best of care of them, but he had the goods yesterday.

When Bill Hampton walks up to the plate with a couple of men on bases, and there is a kind of bulldog grin around his lips, it is a pretty safe bet that things will be doing when his bat meets the spheroid. Yesterday he cracked out a three-bagger just as if a triple were the easiest thing in the world to get. It was good to see that boy Hampton out in a uniform again. He covered third.

"Dude" Miller is showing up well at short, and George Burns held down second in good style. Eddie Fernandez played his usual brilliant game, and showed his ability as a leader in captaining and coaching the team.

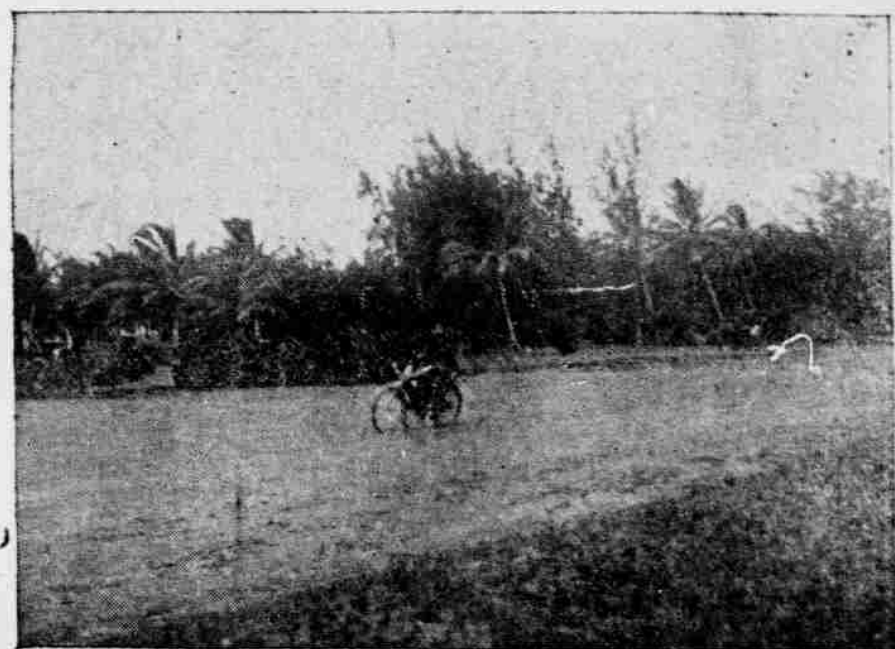

U. Lemon, out in the center cabbage-patch, brought himself into the lime-light by several long running catches. This lad is a pretty sure and reliable little player and can be counted on for a bingle when it is needed. Harry Bruus played left, his old position, and he covered every inch of the ground in the right way. Will Desha kept up the honor of the family out in the garden back of first base.

Altogether, the showing of the team yesterday against the Marines, who, by the way, have been in practice for some time, was considerably of a surprise. It was demonstrated that there is no need of their coming down to Aala park for practice, as was suggested in these columns yesterday. One reason for turning out at the League grounds is that most of the boys have now secured permission to leave their various places of employment at four o'clock in the afternoon. The Rapid Transit has boosted the sport to a great degree by issuing passes on the street-cars to the players. This bit of generosity helps a whole lot.

Mique Fisher's team will arrive here on or about the twenty-ninth of this month, and, from present appearances, the locals will be fully prepared to give them some real live, gingery baseball. Under Eddie Fernandez, the boys have not missed a single practice. The next two weeks will put the ball players in the best kind of shape to meet the travelers.

BASKETBALL GAME ASSURED FOR MONDAY

Fort Shafter's strong basketball team will meet the Y. M. C. A. team on Monday evening in the opening game of what will probably be a regular series. The soldier lads have a good aggregation of basketball players, and it is probable that they will come out victorious in the first game, which is to be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Lack of training will tell against Dr. Hand's boys at first, but the Doctor maintains that this will not be the case in the contest that will follow.

Teams will probably be organized among the various army and navy organizations in the near future, and this will result in the formation of a basketball league. The Y. M. C. A. athletes are always ready to boost this kind of sport to the limit, and they are working up enthusiasm at present.

The lineup of the association boys will be: Frank Bechert, captain; James Nott, John Baptist, Dan Voeller, Charles Gilliland, Joe Honan, C. Lewis, Gunn, Axtell, and Bunn. These men are all oldtimers at the game, and under the able coaching of Dr. Hand, should make a good showing against the Fort Shafter heavies Monday evening.

Sport Notes

The two regular games will be played in the Kalamianole League today, the first contest being between the Aalas and the Twilights, and the second between the White Sox and the J. A. C. team.

There will be a meeting of a committee this evening to arrange for the dance to be given on the 23rd of January by the Chinese Alohas. All the members of the committee are requested to be present.

The weather is great for golfing, and it is expected that a record crowd will be at the Country Club today. The usual excellent lunch will be served.

In the last race Sullivan made the distance in a shade worse than sixteen minutes. Most of the entries today are expected to qualify and the outlook is for a good field of fast walkers next Sunday.

Entries for the fat men's and veteran's contests must be received at this office by 6 p. m. Saturday next or may be made to members of the committee, Messrs. Cheatham, Densham or Ayres.

The walking race at Hilo appears to have been a very close affair, judging from reports received by the steamer Mauna Kea yesterday. Sullivan trained right along but Ayres did no conditioning and while he walked well was in anything but good shape. His speed managed to win for him, however, but the distance was about as far as he wanted to go in the mud.

Last Monday Sullivan and Ayres walked from Glenwood to the Volcano House, nine miles of stiff uphill going, in two hours flat, which is believed to be a record for that particular stretch.

Sullivan got down to hard training for the big race immediately on his arrival and is confident that he can confirm the result of the first race.

Ayres announces that he will make a start on the road on Monday and expects to cover the course in sixteen minutes on Sunday next. If he trains he may succeed in doing this but if he doesn't get down to hard work pretty soon the chances are that he won't make as good time as he did in the first race.

The elimination race today is looked on to produce a dark horse or two who will make it interesting for the leaders in the last race and if reports are true one of the starters today is capable of povering the course in better than fifteen minutes.

After the race next Sunday the go-as-you-please race to Waialua for the cup offered by the Haleiwa Hotel management will engage the attention of pedestrians and when this contest has been settled all hands will take a rest from the hiking game till the cool days of next December.
